

Best Ways to Get to Placencia, Belize

Reef Conservation International's marine conservation dive trips begin on Monday and end on Friday. We depart by boat for our island at 9:30am on Monday from the Hokey Pokey Water Taxi Dock in Placencia, Belize. We return to the mainland (Placencia) on Friday anywhere from 10am-12pm depending on navigable ocean conditions. You will need to schedule your arrival and departure in and out of Placencia, Belize either on a Saturday or Sunday.

All guests will fly into Belize's only international airport - Belize International Airport (BZE) which is located in Belize City. The best way to travel from BZE to Placencia, Belize is by plane – it's by far the easiest, fastest, and a reasonably priced option. Shuttles from BZE to Placencia are also an option. See below for more info on both options.

Flight Options from Belize International Airport to Placencia

From Belize International Airport (BZE), you will make a connecting flight and fly down on a 'hopper' plane to Placencia with Tropic Air or Maya Island Air. The hopper flight takes about 45 minutes and will range anywhere from $230-260 USD round-trip and is an exciting ride. Tropic Air and Maya Island Air provide several daily flights on the weekends to/from Belize International Airport and Placencia. You can do a quick flight search at Tropic Air and Maya Island Air to find the best price.

When you arrive at Belize International Airport (BZE), you will not have to leave the airport to catch your domestic hopper flight to Placencia on Tropic Air and Maya Island Air. It's all right there at BZE airport. Belize International Airport is small in comparison to American/European standards. Reefci recommends leaving 1.5 hours between your international arrival flight and your hopper flight. Two hours if you don't want to stress about flying and missing connections.

Travel Tip! Have your camera ready as you will fly very low along the Belize coastline with the beautiful scenery of the Mayan Mountains and jungle on one side and the Belize Barrier Reef on the other!
